

HOW VULNERABLE ARE YOU TO STRESS?

THE MILLER-SMITH LIFESTYLE ASSESSMENT INVENTORY

Stress often results from some factors in your lifestyle, and in turn can influence you into an unhealthy lifestyle. The aim of this inventory is to help you systematically to assess your current lifestyle to see if there are factors in it which may be increasing your vulnerability to stress, and which could be suitable targets of change. Read each item carefully, and then give it a rating from 1 to 5 depending on how often that item applies to you now:

1 - Almost always      2 - Often      3 - Sometimes      4 - Occasionally      5 - Almost never

There are no right or wrong answers. The more accurately you answer, the better you will identify ways you can manage your stress.

1. I eat at least one hot, balanced meal a day
  2. I get seven to eight hours sleep at least four nights a week
  3. I give and receive affection regularly

- TOTAL:

To get your score on this test, add up your figures.

Score	Indicates
Less than 50	Low vulnerability
50 to 70	Vulnerable
70 to 95	Seriously vulnerable
More than 95	Extremely vulnerable

First, you can obtain a general indication of how much your lifestyle is making you vulnerable to distress, according to this scale.

Probably more useful, however, is to look at each of the items to identify possible goals for your stress management programme. A score of 3,4 or 5 on an item suggests you should look carefully at that part of your lifestyle to see if you should be making some changes to reduce your stress vulnerability.
